

Christmas Eve (Haász Albert / Galla Miklós)

It's Christmas Eve. The world is in silence.
Now there isn't any violence.
You can see that there's candlelight
In every home all around.

Firearms are only resting.
Everybody's celebrating.
Instead of fights there's only fun
'Cause here on Earth peace has come.

But tomorrow will come,
And the magic will vanish.
Argument starts again
There'll be fight all through the year.

Every child is singing songs.
They are happy and free of wrongs.
The struggle for money stops today.
But only for one single day.

'Cause tomorrow will come,
And the magic will vanish.
Argument starts again
There'll be fight all through the year.

Sing a song, shake off your sadness !
Now's the time for little happiness.
Open your heart on this night
In the shining candlelight !

A sudden change is taking place,
And the magic has vanished.
Argument starts again
There is fight all through the year.
